HAROLD L. FROST ADDRESSES

Several members of the Arlington Garden Club attended the Second Annual Home Gardeners' School, held April 5 and 6 at the Watertown Field Station of the Massachusetts State College at Cedar Hill.

At the Wednesday morning session Harold L. Frost of H. L. Frost & Co. addressed an audience that filled the lecture hall on "Pruning Trees, Shrubs, Roses and Vines." On this subject, Mr. Frost pointed out, the amateur gardener can find plenty of books - all poor, because of their vague and ambiguous directions. To prove his point he read several excerpts from gardening books. The audience found the directions read ague but even humorous because of their glaring lack of di-

More than a hundred members and ladies graced the tastefully decorated tables at the annual Ladies' Night of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening in the Middlesex Sportsman's Association Clubhouse. Pretty favors, caps and crepe streamers, not to mention beautiful potted tulips supplied by Nils Anderson the florist, added color to the scene, and were a credit to the taste of Mrs. Trueworthy, who had charge of the lecorating. At the business meeting which tolowed, David A. Wilcox was elected resident for the coming year; Charles F. McManus, vice-president; Maurice L. Hatch, secretary; Nelson Bowers, treasurer; Rufus W. Blake, trustee; and Charles H. Higgins, James O. Holt, M. Ernest Moore, John D. O'Leary, Leonard P. Roberts, Chas. E. Dockrill, William A. McNeal, and W. B. Henderson, directors.

The committee in charge of the entertainment, which was headed by Charles Sawyer, presented a variety of numbers. There were songs by Morton Bowe and Phyllis Blake, and dancing and bridge rounded out the evening. The music was supplied by Lew Bowe and his band which played the usual dance music and a few square dances during which Roger . Homer called the figures.

The singing was especially appreciated. Unfortunately the entertainers came prepared to sing only a few numbers, thinking that there would be others on the program. After Mr. Bowe and Miss Blake had completed their regular program, their listeners were so insistent that they continue, that the pair was forced to return to the stage and read a song from the orchestra score.

Miss Blake has been heard many times by Arlington audiences and each time she is appreciated more thoroughly. She has a lovely quality and power surprising in so small a person. Mr. Bowe is a well known every day at one time or another, broadcasting from Station WNAC.

WOODLAND DAIRY ADOPTS THE CREAM TOP BOTTLE

The new cream top bottle, which s to be sold exclusively to Woodland customers is a marked improvement over the old style milk bottle. This bottle is an exclusive feature of the Woodland Dairy, Watertown, Mass, and cannot be obtained from any other source.

It has always been Mr. Woodland's policy to have the best equipment to process his high quality milk and cream, and to be able to pass on to the public the most effi-cient, convenient and economical container on the market.

There are no signs of depression at this progressive institution as they have just moved into their new $50,000 dairy, and in so doing have necessitated the employment of twenty-six additional employees. The formal opening of the new

THE MENOTOMY CLUB TO HAVE A BASEBALL TEAM

The Menotomy Club is to have a team to represent it on the diamond this year. The new team, which is under the management of Charles Crocoo, will be a member of the newly formed Paul Revere Baseball League, which many teams in surfounding towns have joined. Lewis S. Harris, athletic supervisor in the Belmont public schools, is president of the new league.

Among the players who will be on the new team will be found Johnny Lane, Johnny Hederman, Frank Goodwin, Joe Gaindell and Thusky Crovo. Others to be included in the line-up are Kenneth Dempsey, Fred Buckley, Adrian Downey, Donald Ross, Bob Haggerty and "Sneeze" Ketchejian. Gordon Weir is to coach the team, and it will play its home games on Spy Pond Field on Thursday evenings.

TRACK TEAM CAPTAINCY TO REMAIN UNFILLED

Coach Doc McCarty announced last Monday that the captaincy of the A. H. S. track team left open by the untimely death of Howard "Babe" Rice, captain-elect for this season, will remain unfilled as a memorial to the late Arlington halfmile ace. It was thought all along that the local track mentor would do this, so the announcement was not a surprise.

The death of "Babe" has made the none too bright prospects of a good team this year even worse. He was a valuable asset to the team. and was counted on for many points this season. As usual, there is a raft of middle distance men seeking to fill the gap, but so far only three men seem to be near qualification. These prospective half-milers are Teddy Foster, Red Hanlon, both of whom ran for the first time last fall on the cross-country team, and Jack Aubrey, another harrier, The mile-run is a little petter off.

with the veterans Mishie Rice (a brother to "Babe"), Bill McDonald. Stretch Gilbert, and the newcomers, Hallock, Fitzpatrick, Blauer, Har-Stockbridge. Hawkes, Hoffman and Dale.

In the sprints, such men as Bill McCarty, last year's captain, Ski Dineen Bill Keefe, and Gige Linane, all consistent point gainers, will be missed in more ways than one. Bill, son of "Doc", was the Mystic Valley 100-yard dash and running broad jump, champ while Ski copped a second in the Mystic Valley century, and was crowned 220-vard champ in the same meet. Bill Keefe earned points in the same meet as did Gige. At the Harvard State Meet, the junior McCarty took a second in the 100, and was crowned state champ in the broad jump. while Ski Dineer finished third in the 220-yard race, So. all in all "Doc" will have trouble in getting these points this year

Tom Mc-Farland is a new candidate in this event, and he has been showing steady improvement since last fall. Barney Troy is the only promising broad jumper that has showed up in practice so far, but it is expected that Frank A'Hearn will try the event after he has finished his sprinting conditioning.

Peter Golden is another new man in the shot-put, but he has been out with the ball players to date, and he'll be ready for the track team in time for the Belmont Inter-class meet, April 14. He is a good bet for Coach Ostgren's ball team, and in the event that he makes good in track, he will work both positions with Crovo.

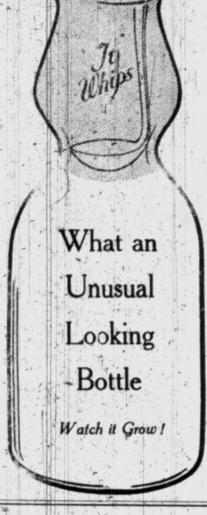

So far, "Doc's" boys have been using the Spy Pond track, but they will move up to the Warren A. Peirce oval when it is fixed. They haven't much time before their first meet, so they will be kept busy.

TOWN MEETING MEMBERS, TOO

For several years past it has been the custom of one organization, at least, in the town, to invite candidates for the more important town offices to appear, just prior to election, at a public meeting, in order that all and sundry may see and hear them, and thus form some sort of opinion as to what sort of men (or women) they are. It is a good custom, and it is too bad that more voters do not avail themselves of it, and in this way, become acquainted with the persons their votes may put in office.

It seems strange that it has apparently occurred to no considerable number of people that it would be a very good thing for the voters in the various precincts to give the candidates for Town Meeting Member the "once over", so to speak, in a similar manner.

After all, the character of the Town Meeting, taken as a whole, is of much more importance than the character of all the other officials, taken as a whole. For while the other officials are only executives, bound to do what they are told, it is the Town Meeting that tells them what to do.

Under the old New England Town Meeting form of government every voter was privileged to vote in the Town Meeting. When the voting population of the town became too large for this to be practical our present "Representative Town Meeting" was chosen to take its place.

When we go, now, to the polls to vote for Town Meeting Members we virtually say, "I can no longer vote in the Town Meeting, so I hereby delegate Mr. So and So, and Mr. So and So, to go there and vote in my place, as I am convinced that they would vote about as I would vote if I were there."

Then we proceed to put a cross before a lot of names, most of which we have never heard before, whose owners we have never seen in the flesh, and who may hold opinions diametrically opposed to everything we think. Thereafter we shove the ballot into the box, heave a sigh, and walk out of the polling place quite convinced that we have finished our part in a democratic government for a

But how can a Representative Town Meeting be representative unless it represents someone? And how can the voter choose his representative unless he knows what he stands for?

What really happens, of course, is that the Town Meeting Member runs because it pleases him to, and then votes in the Town Meeting, just as it pleases him to vote.

For the Representative Town Meeting to be really representative there ought to be occasional precinct meetings at which the representatives and the represented could get together and talk things over. But that is perhaps too much to expect of the citizens of a freedom-loving, democracy-loving community, where everyone seems to think that "self-government" means a government that runs itself, and where the sovereign voter things he is only required to step on the starter, as you might say, once a year.

The showing of Town Meeting candidates before the precincts would serve as a good beginning, however, and might later lead to a further step in real self-government, and local representative

"THE TROUBLE WITH THIS COUNTRY IS —"

On every hand there are two topics of discussion, which continue to take up people's minds - the depression and the widespread prevalence of crime. The amazing thing about both these questions is that, while no one seems to be able to do much of anything about them, almost anyone you meet on the street can tell you just what is the matter. Here are a few causes of the economic situation that may be picked up on the street in Arlington any day:-

The shifting of the world's gold reserve. Improved machinery displacing workers. People have spent too much money. People have not spent enough money. The workers have been overpaid.

Too much money spent on armament. Not enough spent on armament.

Too much immigration.

Not enough immigration.

The government has interfered too much with business.

The government has not regulated business enough. Politicians are too ignorant and too dishonest to run the government properly.

Business men, though "smart" and aggressive in conducting their own business, don't know much of anything about business as a whole, and therefore are helpless in an emergency.

Regarding crime, one can learn pretty nearly everything in an afternoon without leaving town. It is prevalent because

The laws are not drastic enough.

The laws are too drastic. We don't spank our children often enough or hard enough. Our parents didn't spank us hard enough or often enough:

We don't go to church often enough.

We have not enough respect for authority. Most of the authorities are so corrupt that we ought not to respect them.

And so on ad infinitum.

The truth about the business situation is that such enormous strides have been made in invention, business organization and the development of the whole economic scheme that nobody any longer understands them. The situation has become too complicated. We still voice the old saws, we try to apply old methods to new conditions, but mostly we are like some old farmer who used to be an expert at driving the horse and wagon but who is now confronted by a modern sixteen-cylinder Packard badly out

And we are in somewhat the same straits when we come to finds ample grounds for hope.

deal with crime prevalence. We have an enormously increased population, composed of new and widely different elements. Old theories and old standards of morals have been badly shaken. In the big cities, police and judiciary systems are too often graftinfested, so that the honest citizen doesn't know whether they are defending him or in league with the criminals.

Above all, the quest of success has become almost a religion with us, and ordinarily success means money. Breadly speaking, if one has money he has not only power, comfort, pleasures, but the respect of the world, and no questions asked. If he has none, he has only hardship, want, and at best, the pitying contempt of his fellow-men. It is hardly remarkable, then, that the less scrupulous and more daring, particularly of the younger generation, take to crime that seems to offer big material reward. The acquisitive instinct has run wild, gone mad. Clearly we are faced with such problems as the world never met before. But also, never did the world have brighter minds, more energy, or anything like the equipment of knowledge we have today. When one reads of the conditions which existed in the Middle Ages, and remembers how poorly humanity was fitted to cope with them, yet realizes how nobly it acquitted itself, one

Of course, everyone knows it by now, but several changes are proposed, chief among which are the abolition of the Board of Public Works and the creation of a Superintendent of money, you say? We think so, too. Public Works who will work under But wait and see what happened. a board of five selectmen instead of the present board of three. The matter goes to the town for final acceptance in the form of a referendum at the primaries this fall.

Changes, even minor changes, are not made without some grief along with the obvious advantages. And this week marks the spilling of the first blood - figuratively speaking, of ernment will be made or not will not be decided until fall, but already an important shift has been made in anticipation of the major shake-up.

"Bill" Toomey, who has been in charge of highways and the sanitary department, has been demoted. We do not know exactly what his new duties will be but anyway he has come down a peg or two in the destantial reduction in salary. On the other hand, Edward T. O'Brien has stepped up. He has been in charge of expenses could be cut quite so simply water and sewers but now he as sumes management of all the outdoor activities of the public works department. Benson remains in his present capacity in the town hall.

Seems like quite a radical shake-up in view of the fact that the whole department will come under different management if the vote on the change in government is favorable in for a good while why it is necessary the fall. But the move which was made Monday night by the Board of Public Works in regular session is one which has been recommended for some time by various citizens who ought to know what it is all about.

The second act depicted the school in session under the masterful guid- had served the town faithfully and ance of the school master. Every one in the large cast was given the opportunity of demonstrating his abilities with a recitation, some of the statements made by the pupils being remarkable, to say the least.

But great improvement on the part of the scholars, especially in singing, is apparent in the last act which depicted the closing exercises of the school. The visiting parents were proud and delighted, and the school committee was unanimous in its seection of Mr. Pendergrass as school master for another year. The exercises closed with a splendid oration by the chairman of the school committee, Urish Perkins (Rev. Laurence L. Barber). No one in the show played his part with any more enthusiasm than did Mr. Barber. He proved that his talents do not lie in the pulpit alone. It was well that his name appeared on the program, however, for his costume and make-up was a thorough-going disquise. The cast:
